

Sargent Amy Gonzales began her career in law enforcement after completing a 2-year police cadet program with the Taylor Police Department in 2000. While at the Taylor Police Department, Sgt. Gonzales was assigned to the patrol division until she was promoted to Detective in 2008. While working in the Criminal Investigations Division, she primarily investigated major crimes, crimes against persons, and cold cases. While at the Taylor Police Department, Sgt. Gonzales was a 3-time inductee into the Williamson County Victim's Advocate Hall of Fame, received a Life Saving Award, and a Meritorious Service Award for solving a cold case homicide. In 2014 she left the Taylor Police Department to accept a position as a Sgt. Investigator with the Williamson County District Attorney's Office. Sgt. Gonzales began working with the Office of the Attorney General in 2017 and is currently assigned to the Child Exploitation Unit/ Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force. Sgt. Gonzales has a Master Peace Officer certificate and is a TCOLE-certified Field Training Officer and Instructor.